Staying Safe During A Power Outage

Power outages happen and your credit union wants you to stay safe during the outage. You will want to take steps to keep your home and family safe. Here are some simple things that can be done to stay safe in the event of an outage:

- * Leave one light on so you know when power is restored.
- * Keep your refrigerator/freezer doors closed to maintain the cold temperature.
- * Unplug electronics/appliances in case of a power surge. When power comes back on, surges or spikes can damage equipment.
- * Use flashlights and/or flameless LED candles for lighting.
- * Learn how to manually open your automatic garage doors or gates.
- * If you are using a generator, be sure you understand the risks of carbon monoxide poisoning. Never run a generator inside a home or garage.
- * Stay away from downed power lines and anything touching them.

Summer Break 101: Have Fun And Be Safe!

Summer is here - finally! School is out, the weather is perfect...and you're bored. Not to worry! There are lots of fun, safe ways to keep you busy and entertained this summer, many of which will get you outdoors enjoying time with friends and family

Suntime is Funtime - Soak in these warm-weather days by:

- * Beating the heat at the closest pool whether it's in your backyard or at the community swim club.
- * Packing a lunch, grabbing some friends and heading to the local park for a day of food and Frisbee.
- * Planning a beach day with some help from Mom or Dad - pack a bag, jump in the car, and head to the shore.

Go Green - Embrace some environmentally friendly ways by:

- * Planting a garden
- * Learning to make compost
- * Making a bird feeder
- * Raising worms
- * Joining a "green" club

Get Your Craft On - Some creative projects include:

- * Learning to make jewelry
- * Starting a Summer Scrapbook with photos from all of your adventures

Volunteer - Help people in need and make some new friends at:

- * Your church or synagogue
- * A museum
- * An animal shelter
- * Or, get more ideas at www.volunteermatch.org

Games and Hobbies - Try something new, like:

- * A sport
- * A board/card game
- * Reading a novel
- * Writing your own short story or poetry
- * A hobby (photography, knitting, or cooking/baking)

the LAST Word It's better to rust out than wear out.

We've Got A Deal For Loans With Two Wheels

Is the roar of a Harley Davidson or the purr of a BMW calling your name? No matter what motorcycle you're yearning for, the loan you're seeking is just down the road at the credit union. If you're a new rider, your first stop should be a visit to the Motorcycle Safety Foundation's website: www.msf-usa.org. You'll find resources there to ensure you are off to a safe start. Experienced riders will benefit, too. There's information on how to refresh your skills. Then head to the credit union to get pre-approved for a Motorcycle Loan. With a pre-approved loan in hand, you can shop like a cash buyer whether you are looking for a new bike or one that's new to you. A motorcycle is a fun way to explore highways and byways and an economical way to commute as well. Be safe

Great minds have purpose, others have wishes.

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 150-200 words.

One benefit of using your newsletter as a promotional tool is that you can reuse content from other marketing materials, such as press releases, market studies, and reports.

While your main goal of distributing a newsletter might be to sell your product or service, the key to a successful newsletter is making it useful to your readers.

A great way to add useful content to your newsletter is to develop and write your own articles, or include a calendar of upcoming events or a special offer that promotes a new product.

You can also research articles or find “filler” articles by accessing the World Wide Web. You can write about a variety of topics but try to keep your articles short.

Much of the content you put in your newsletter can also be used for your Web site. Microsoft Publisher offers a simple way to convert your newsletter to a Web publication. So, when you’re finished writing your newsletter, convert it to a Web site and post it.

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 100-150 words.

The subject matter that appears in newsletters is virtually endless. You can include stories that focus on current technologies or innovations in your field.

You may also want to note business or economic trends, or make predictions for your customers or clients.

If the newsletter is distributed internally, you might comment upon new procedures or improvements to the business. Sales figures or earnings will show how your business is growing.

Some newsletters include a column that is updated every issue, for instance, an advice column, a book review, a letter from the president, or an editorial. You can also profile new employees or top customers or vendors.

“To catch the reader’s attention, place an interesting sentence or quote from the story here.”

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 75-125 words.

Selecting pictures or graphics is an important part of adding content to your newsletter.

Think about your article and ask yourself if the picture supports or enhances the message you’re trying to convey. Avoid selecting images that appear to be out of context.

Microsoft Publisher includes thousands of clip art images from which you can choose and import into your newsletter. There are also several tools you can use to draw shapes and symbols.

Once you have chosen an image, place it close to the article. Be sure to place the caption of the image near the image.

Business Tagline or Motto

Organization

This would be a good place to insert a short paragraph about your organization. It might include the purpose of the organization, its mission, founding date, and a brief history. You could also include a brief list of the types of products, services, or programs your organization offers, the geographic area covered (for example, western U.S. or European markets), and a profile of the types of customers or members served.

It would also be useful to include a contact name for readers who want more information about the organization.

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 175-225 words.

If your newsletter is folded and mailed, this story will appear on the back. So, it's a good idea to make it easy to read at a glance.

A question and answer session is a good way to quickly capture the attention of readers. You can either compile questions that you've received since the last edition or you can summarize some generic questions that are frequently asked about your organization.

A listing of names and titles of managers in your organization is a good way to give your newsletter a personal touch. If your organization is small, you may want to list the names of all employees.

If you have any prices of standard products or services, you can include a listing of those here. You may want to refer your readers to any other forms of communication that you've created for your organization.

You can also use this space to remind readers to mark their calendars for a regular event, such as a breakfast meeting for vendors every third Tuesday of the month, or a biannual charity auction.

If space is available, this is a good place to insert a clip art image or some other graphic.
