the LAST Word

Life is 10 percent what you make it and 90 percent how you take it.

Holiday Help From Your Credit Union
A little short on cash this holiday season? A Holiday Loan from the credit union can not only give you the funds you need, but also help you control your holiday spending. That's because it's too easy to go overboard when you use credit cards to pay for your purchases. With a Holiday Loan in hand, you can pay in cash, a proven way to curb spending. (If you buy gifts online, use the loan proceeds to buy a prepaid card and use that for your Web shopping.) Call or stop by the credit union to apply for your Holiday Loan. Then consider these tips to help your money go as far as possible:

- * Check prices online and use a coupon site, such as retailmenot.com, for discount codes.
- * If you've routinely bought gifts for everyone in a large extended family, check in to see if you can draw names instead. You may hear sighs of relief from all.
- * Shop outside the big box. Thrift, antique and grocery stores can be sources of unique gifts.
